

PUBLIC LEDGER

THIRD YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1894.

ONE CENT.

IT'S SO IF
THE

The latest news from M. R. Gilmore is of an encouraging character.

It is very probable that the great Walter L. Main Cirens will visit Maysville the coming season, about the middle of May.

The next show at the Opera-house is Marion Nobles and Sunday evening is the time. Seats of reserved seats open at Nelson's Thursday morning.

Rev. JACOB MILLER yesterday performed the marriage service at the County Clerk's office for Valentine Earls of Fleming and Mrs. Lucy Phillips of Lewis county.

Mr. JOHN BANSON died this morning at Maysville, aged 68 years. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the Maysville Catholic Church.

While the entire cast of the Kate Putnam Company was on the stage at Kentonville theater broke into the gentlemen's dressing-room at the Opera house and stole $100 from the Board.

CHARLES LEE and Mary Davis, colored, were married Saturday evening by Judge Plaster.

FRANK A. MANNES, formerly of this city, has been made a member of the Board of Public Works at Superior, Wis.

An explosion of a lamp set fire to a cottag at Nicholaville and Mrs. Powell the occupant narrowly escaped cremation.

The Editor of The Bulletin is still bellyaching because he didn't get the job of washing the windows at the Postoffice.

THOMAS M. RUSSELL, one of the triumvirate, is on a business trip for the Red-

Whisk Tobacco Factory.

ANY one troubled at night with a persistent cough can produce much-needed rest by taking a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

CORONER F. GULF JR., and Miss Little M. Brunk, a West Virginia couple, were married Sunday evening at the County Clerk's Office by Rev. Jacob Miller. The groom is a railroadman.

WHILE out hunting A. J. McChandler of Muhlenburg county was accidentally shot in the bowels and fatally wounded by his young son, who was playing with a gun he did not think was loaded.

GEORGE E. PERIN, the popular turfman, has been engaged by L. V. Wright, the multi-millionaire trotting horse breeder, to take charge of the horses on Mr. Harkness's farm near Lexington.

OUTDOOR GREENWALD, who has been working for F. H. Traxel for a few weeks, stole a suit of clothes from Mr. Traxel's bazaar yesterday and skipped out for Cincinnati. A friend of Greenwald left with him, having stolen an overcoat from Louis Hotze.

EVERTHWHO who has No. 1 of the Magic City says it is the finest book of views they have ever seen. Wait until you see No. 2. Each number gets finer than the previous one. We have a few of No. 1 and only a few for immediately delivery.

Over their counters the R. and O. Estes and C. & D. Hall drapery houses, Cincinnati to New York at $15, while their so-called B. and O. and C. and O. tickets at $15 and Erie tickets at $14. A party rate of $13 for ten persons on a solid ticket will be made.

THE home talent minstrel show will be given on Tuesday evening, March 20th. Great preparations are being made for this event and it promises to be a grand affair. A rehearsal was held last night at the Opera-house and fully twenty-five young men were present. Watch for the grand free street parade.

AT Newport in the $20,000 damage suit of C. H. Conn against George Chadwick, a jury in the Circuit Court found against Conn. The latter charged Chadwick with making use of the language, "I never murdered my wife," which Mr. Conn claimed had reference to the death of his first wife, hence the action for damages.

THE Chesapeake and Ohio has resumed the survey up the Guyandot River Valley, and expects to get to work on the construction of the main line early in the summer. The proposed line will cover a distance of about seventy-five miles and will penetrate one of the richest coal and lumber territories of this end of the state.

TURKISH revival meetings are now being held in this city, namely, the Methodist Episcopal on Third street and in the Sixth Ward and the M. E. Church, South, on Second street. All the meetings are largely attended, the capacity of each church being tested almost every night, and many conversions and additions to the churches are taking place.

JAMES DUNBAR, a LEDGER carrier, met with a most painful accident yesterday morning by having his forefinger on his right hand badly cut.

TURKISH revival meetings are now being held in this city, namely, the Methodist Episcopal on Third street and in the Sixth Ward and the M. E. Church, South, on Second street. All the meetings are largely attended, the capacity of each church being tested almost every night, and many conversions and additions to the churches are taking place.

FOUND HIS BOY.

Thomas Hodge has at last recovered his missing son.

The following letter, received by THE LEDGER, explains itself.

BERLIN, KY., March 5th, 1894.
Mr. Davis—Sir: I have found my boy, and thank you for your kindness in publishing the notice. I would like to thank the people of Mason county for their hospitality in regard to myself and in trying to help me in trouble. He was near Dexter, in your town.

Please print this and oblige me. Yours truly,

THOMAS HODGE.

LONG TIME TO WAIT.

How Long the Governor Holds on older Bills Passed.

Governor Brown called The Frankfort Optimist's reporter's attention to a section of the Constitution, with the full meaning of which if any of our legislators are acquainted.

Whether the Constitution framers so intended or not, it remains a fact that all bills passed by the Assembly on Friday and Saturday last may be legally held by the Governor for nineteen days, Sundays excepted, while others yet to be passed may remain in the Executive's hands a proportionately long time.

In other words the Governor will, upon the adjournment of the Legislature, have not only ten days in which to consider all bills passed by him that reach him on the day of adjournment, but will have the same ten days in which to further consider all bills that then will have been in his hands less than ten days. A part of Section 89 of the new Constitution reads:

If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within ten days (Sunday excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, it shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly, by a two-thirds vote, shall, before its return, disapproved by him within ten days after the adjournment, in which case veto message shall be spread upon the register kept by the Secretary of State.

A QUICK CASE.

The General Takes the Judge's Advice and Leaves the City.

General George Jackson was in the city Sunday but is gone today and with it departure one of the quickest cases of administering the law is a thing of record.

Three years ago the General came to Maysville and on account of his conduct as a warrant was issued for him on the charge of drunkenness and vagrancy.

But the "sly old fox" found out there was a warrant for him and "hopped the town" in as mysterious a manner as was his coming.

Nothing has been seen or heard from him until Sunday when he was again seen here and was arrested on the old warrant.

Yesterday he was brought before Judge Wadsworth for trial and when asked whether or not he was ready for trial he said:

"Yes, sir, your Honor, I am ready for trial and I would ask you to be as easy with me as you can. I haven't been here for three years and if you let me go this time I won't bother you again for three years more."

Judge Wadsworth looked at him a moment and replied:

"I will let you off on that condition and your sentence accordingly will be that I will give you just thirty minutes to get out of the town and not return again for three years."

The words had hardly fallen from the Judge's lips when the fellow darted out the door and in less than a half hour he was heard from over in Aberdeen.

EARLY POKER PLAYING.

How Judge Walker Reid Broke It Up Among the Lawyers.

Judge Walker Reid, of blessed memory with the old lawyers of this Judicial District, was very strict on the bench, but not always so in his private life.

It had become the custom of the lawyers traveling the Circuit to indulge in a friendly game of poker after court adjourned at night, and Judge Reid frequently joined in the game.

One night at Brookville, in Bracken county, the Court and the attorneys joined in a game on the evening that they arrived, and the next morning when Court sat, the Judge, in giving the usual charge to the Grand Jury, addressed himself to the attorneys:

"Gentlemen, you are officers of the Court, and as such are sworn to uphold the laws and Constitution of the state. You have been playing poker contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided. Each of you will be fined $10 upon the return of indictments, the bringing of which I have ordered."

Turning to the Prosecuting Attorney, the late Hon. W. H. Wadsworth, he said:

"Wadsworth, you are not only a lawyer, but also a Prosecuting Attorney, sworn to bring offenders to justice. You will pay a fine of $35."

"Reid," laying his hand upon his own breast, "you are not only a lawyer, but a Judge. You have violated the law, and you must pay a fine of $50."

He paid the fine as did each of the lawyers, and it broke up the poker game on this Circuit.

The public cordially invited to the exercises, which begin promptly at 7.

One year of CLEVELAND, and the Government expenses are exceeding the receipts at the rate of $72,000,000 a year! Hippocephorus for clover and GROVER!

The House of Representatives will now go to work on the appropriation bills. But they will have to wait until Secretary CARLISLE issues some more bonds before they will have anything to appropriate.

Why doesn't this Democratic Administration carry out its platform pledges? It promised the repeal of the "rotter Tariff," and here it has been a whole year in power and the Free-trade bill has only gotten as far as the front gate of the Senate.

DEMOCRATIC organs continue to ascribe ex-Speaker GROVER's enormous plurality of 188,204 in Pennsylvania to Democratic "influence." It is remarkable how Democratic "influence" has manifested itself during the last few months; every time that a polling booth was opened.

This cheerful item appears to have escaped Brother MARSH:

Brooklyn, Oct. 1.—The崔's new yacht will cost him $1,250,000 but he can buy as many seascats on board of her as he could on a City Point catboat at $35 a day.

GODS IT cannot have been the reconciliation between Emperor WILLIAM and Prince BISMARCK that caused the public debt of the United States to increase over $40,000,000 last month. Surely the Democratic Administration cannot be responsible for it.

It was ABRAHAM LINCOLN who once said: "You may fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all of the time." The able Democratic editors and orators who howled themselves hoarse for "CLEVELAND and good times" might paste those words in their hats—if they have any.

From 1881 to 1884, under Republican high Tariff, there were nearly 5,000 strikes against reductions of wages. Is THE LEDGER rehashing these old relations? If you will observe, there are no dates to the "calamity" items B.F.C. Davis has lately published.—Bulletin.

Nay, Brother; there's no need of "going behind the returns." The "calamity items" published in THE LEDGER are fresh from the grist of GROVER. You are welcome to find all the fault you can with them. And maybe it will comfort you to read the many letter of JESSE H. Bouson, printed in another column of this paper.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 18, 1893.—
My dear Sirs:—I give you my exceeding pleasure to speak of your Antisuffrage, as I consider it, article in the Public Ledger. My old servant Albert, who is 72 years old, was stricken with a severe attack of heart trouble and dropped. I called in my family physician and gave him every attention, but he could do nothing for him. He had no hope, and the only thing that could be done was to let him die. I did not know what to do. At this point I decided to give him Stockton's Antisuffrage, as it seemed to be performing a miracle for others. I gave him a regular dose every three hours and the fever subsided. He lived for two days longer. The decided improvement was noticed the first day. In three days he was sitting up and in a week he was walking about again. He was regaining his strength very fast. I consider this a miracle. Please accept my thanks, respectively yours, FRANK BRADHORN, No. 5 Noel Block.

TARIFF BILL.

Perfected Measure Laid Before the Finance Committee.

Many Changes Made, Even to the Date of Its Going Into Effect.

All Lead Products Placed on the Free List—Imports of Tin, Lead, Zinc, and Tin Oxide—New Duties Schedule—The Duty on Cutlery Gets a Reduction.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The perfected tariff bill as amended by the subcommittee on July 1 has been introduced in the Senate finance committee, and was by them Monday still further modified in at least one important particular. The changes made by the subcommittee are very numerous, and begin with the date which the law is to go into effect, which was made Jan. 1, 1894, instead of June 1, and follow through all the schedules, commencing with the first item in the first schedule. The principal features of the bill are as follows:

Distilled spirits entering into the composition of any preparation are to be taxed at $1.50 per gallon, or 15 cents a gallon. The tax on brandy is changed from $1.50 to $1.60 per proof gallon. All cordials and liquors are also charged from $1.50 to $1.60 per proof gallon.

All lead products included in paragraphs 49, 50, 51, and 52, which include acetate of lead, white lead, nitrate of lead and orange mineral, which in the Wilson bill are taxed 1½ to 15 cents a pound, are placed on the free list.

Lead ore and lead dust, taxed in the Wilson bill at 10 cents a pound, or 1 cent a gallon, pig lead and refuse lead, taxed in the Wilson bill 1 cent a pound, are all made free. Lead in sheets and lead wire, taxed in the Wilson bill 1½ cent a pound, are charged to 25 cent a pound.

All sugar not above 80 degrees polariscopic, 85-100 of a cent per pound, and for each additional degree above 80 polariscopic 1-100 of a cent a pound. Molasses not above 56 degrees, 2 cents per gallon, above 56 degrees, 4 cents per gallon.

In the glass and glazier's schedule many changes are made. All cylinder and crown glass, which in the Wilson bill were taxed from 1½ to 1 cent per pound up to 20 cents per square foot in the case of polished glasses are made dutiable while plain glass or unpainted glass is taxed from 10 to 20 cents, as also are all the manufacturers of glass included in paragraphs 93, 94 and 95, which include plate glass of every kind, rough or finished, silvered or unsilvered.

Spectacles, opera glasses and optical instruments are reduced from 20 to 30 per cent ad valorem, as are also pebbles or glass lenses, glass slides for magic lanterns and fusible enamel reduced from 25 to 20 per cent ad valorem. Stained glass irrespective of size is taxed at 10 per cent per unit instead of 30 per cent ad valorem.

In the metal schedules, iron in slabs, blooms, etc., is made dutiable at 20 per cent ad valorem instead of 22½, as in the Wilson bill. Common black sheets of iron or steel, which in the Wilson bill are dutiable at 10 of a cent per pound, are taxed at 5 per cent ad valorem. The same duty is imposed on tin-coated plates, which in the Wilson bill were taxed 1-5 cents per pound.

In cutlery, pen and pocket knives are reduced from 45 to 35 per cent ad valorem. Gold and silver leaf are reduced from 55 to 30 per cent ad valorem.

Cotton manufactures are taxed at the uniform rate of 30 per cent ad valorem.

In the hemp, etc., changes are made as follows: Flaxseed changed from 1½ cents a pound to 10 per cent ad valorem. Jute yarn reduced from 20 to 15 per cent ad valorem. Flax or hemp yarn reduced from 25 to 30 per cent ad valorem. The changes in wool and mohair are the same as those made with paragraph 235, as exactly as previously stated in these dispatches.

The provision contained in paragraph 297, providing for a graduated reduction of 1 per cent on all rates in the woolen schedule except carpets, to take effect on July 1, 1894, and an like reduction to take effect on the first day of July of each succeeding year up to 1900, is stricken out. The changes in silk are as stated in these dispatches of March 3.

The changes in silk to lace, plating, carding, spinning, matching, cutting, dyeing, diamonds and pearls, leather, gloves, smokers' articles, umbrellas and tobacco were accurately stated in these dispatches March 3, and remain unchanged in the bill as laid before the committee Monday.

The iron and steel provision was left untouched by the sub-committee, which is in favor of it, and was not acted upon Monday by the full democratic committee. Neither was any final decision reached as to the whisky tax.

MINING CONSOLIDATE

Baileys and River Men of Pittsburgh District in One Organization.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 6.—Delegates of the railroad and river coal miners of the Pittsburgh district met in joint convention here yesterday, and decided to act as one body. Heretofore the river and railroad miners were represented by two sets of officials. John A. Carlin was elected president of the Amalgamated association, which comprises about 14,000 miners. The district is affiliated with the United Miners' Union. The convention will meet tomorrow and draft a new constitution, and also prepare a differential rate for the different pools in the district. Bland's Seigniorage Bill to the Fore in the Senate.

A Very Shrewd Trick of the Friends of Silver.

The Starling Change in the Programme Was a Prudent Agent in a Few Elements.

A Long Delay on the Particulars Assured, Probably Three Months.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Silver now confronts tariff revision. This new element will be a powerful one in making the bill fit the situation brought by the arrival in the senate of the Bland bill for the coinage of silver seigniorage in the treasury and by the ingenious treatment of this arrival by that apostle of silver, Senator Stewart, of Nevada. The bill is to be delayed to give time for the preparation of a compromise bill, which will be removed to Washington and placed on the grounds of the department here. A concrete foundation for the tree has been constructed at an elevation of about a foot from the ground and on top of which the trunk will be removed throughout its entire length, so as to leave a circular chamber sixteen feet in diameter, and in this hollow a museum on a small scale will be established and a spiral staircase constructed, so that persons will be able to go to the top, over which will be a platform, and from which will be a view of the city of Chicago.

The additional cost required to remove the tree from Chicago and put it in the condition intended will be about $3,000, making a total cost of $11,000. The Japanese government donated to the department it forestry exhibit at the fair and this has been placed in the museum.

A Sequoia Conceived into a Museum With Winding Stairs.

The most prominent addition is a large section of the California sequoia or redwood tree, which was a feature of the interior department's exhibit at the fair. The latter department had the tree cut in California and shipped to Washington, where it was set up. The tree displayed was at least 27 feet through the center and was composed of forty-six different pieces which weighed an average of a ton each. After the fair the interior department contracted to have the tree removed to Washington and placed it on the grounds of the department here. A concrete foundation for the tree has been constructed at an elevation of about a foot from the ground and on top of which the trunk will be removed throughout its entire length, so as to leave a circular chamber sixteen feet in diameter, and in this hollow a museum on a small scale will be established and a spiral staircase constructed, so that persons will be able to go to the top, over which will be a platform, and from which will be a view of the city of Chicago.

The additional cost required to remove the tree from Chicago and put it in the condition intended will be about $3,000, making a total cost of $11,000. The Japanese government donated to the department it forestry exhibit at the fair and this has been placed in the museum.
